Kimball Pianos

The action of the Kimball Piano is not affected by damp weather.

The action is covered by a United States patent, and is a vital feature in piano construction.

A Kimball Piano is responsive, accurate, with great power of repetition.

Drop in and ask to try a Kimball.

stitutionality of the drainage laws of Florida, as amended in 1907. "Move the nomination!" Justice Hughes, the new member of the Supreme Court of the United States, had not been on the bench ten minutes to-day before he had to lay aside for a second the dignity of his office, and laughed. But so did the other justices. It occurred during the introduction of attorneys for admission to the bar. Lawyers from nearly half the States of the Union were presented to take the oath as counselors of the court. Instead of moving the "admission" of a lawyer, one member of the bar, in his embarrassment, who evidently had come from a political convention in New York, said: "I move the nomination of Mr. . . ."

The same mistake was made by the next attorney. It was more than the court could stand. The smiles from the bench brought the next attorney to his wits, and henceforth only "admissions" were suggested to the tribunal.

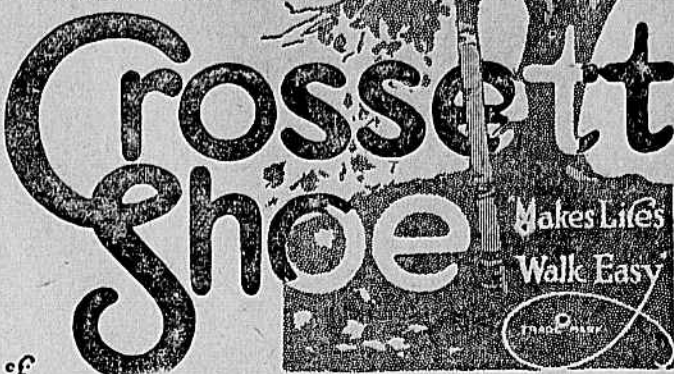

COBB IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 11.—Tyrus Cobb, of the Detroit team, who, with Napoleon Lajoie, of Cleveland, heads the list of heavy hitters in the American League, arrived here to-night. He said he did not care to discuss the re-said Cobb, "and am sorry that either said game at St. Louis, where Lajoie or myself did not win the prize."

MISS QUINN QUESTIONED.

Subjected to Lengthy Examination by Counsel for Professor Peck. New York, October 11.—Miss Esther Quinn, the stenographer, who recently brought suit against Harry Thurston Peck, late Anthon professor of Latin at Columbia University, for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage, was subjected to-day to a lengthy period of questioning by counsel for Professor Peck, who had obtained a court order for her examination before trial of the suit. Miss Quinn was advised by her attorney, Daniel O'Reilly, to refuse to answer many leading questions put to her by Professor Peck's lawyer, C. D. Francis. One such question was as to how many engagements to marry she had had other than the one alleged to have been entered into by Professor Peck. Another was as to whether she had not had "a similar controversy with a Wall Street broker, some fifty years of age, some ten years ago."

Miss Quinn denied ever demanding money from any man on the allegation of improper relations. Miss Quinn said that Professor Peck usually called upon her in the evening, as she was working all day. She denied having ever been in a hotel here save in a dining room, and then only with Professor Peck. Asked if her relations with him up to the time of his divorce was granted in 1900 were nothing more than those of a friend, she said: "I would not specify; it would be so difficult."

Barney Oldfield Disqualified. New York, October 11.—The contest board of the American Automobile Association announced to-night the suspension and disqualification of Barney Oldfield for his announced intention of racing Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilist, in an unsanctioned contest at Sheepshead Bay on October 20.

ENTERTAINMENT IN BOSTON

Irish Envoys to American Guests at Dinner at Exchange Club. Boston, Mass., October 11.—The Irish envoys to America, John E. Redmond, Joseph Devlin and Daniel Boyle, members of Parliament, were entertained at dinner at the Exchange Club as guests of the Atlantic conference and organization of business men yesterday.

Governor Draper, Lieutenant-Governor Louis A. Frothingham, Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, former Governor John D. Long and other prominent citizens were present and spoke, as did the Irish envoys.

Mr. and Mrs. Redmond left late today for New York, and Messrs. Devlin and Boyle will follow to-morrow on their way to Pittsburgh, Pa., where they speak at mass-meetings Thursday.

Accused of Hazing. Annapolis, Md., October 11.—Captain Bowyer, superintendent of the Naval Academy, yesterday appointed a board of investigation, composed of Lieutenant-Commander W. C. Bullard, president, and Lieutenants C. B. Moore and Guy W. Steele, to inquire into the case of four first-class men charged with hazing. It is stated that the four men under suspicion were caught in the room of one of their number last week with a party of fourth-class men, whom they were making compose songs and sing them at the same time, while others were forced to write love letters for the education of the upper class men.

Cotton Firm Suspends. New York, October 11.—The suspension of the cotton brokers' firm of Argo, Jester & Company was announced on the Cotton Exchange yesterday afternoon. It is said that the firm's keen interest in the market was a small one.

Local Organization Celebrates Affiliation With Maryland Exchanges.

Celebrating the recent entrance of the local exchange into the Interstate Builders' Association, which includes exchanges in Maryland, the District of Columbia and other cities in Virginia, prominent officers of the body addressed members of the Richmond Association last night, calling to mind their own early difficulties and sounding warnings against the many pitfalls that beset the paths of youthful organizations. While they believed in organized labor, the speakers favored open shops and offered many examples of the dangers arising from closed shop policies, which are detrimental to builders and laborers alike when the strict rules of the various labor unions are adhered to. John T. Trainor, of Baltimore, president of the Interstate Association, was the first speaker. He asserted that the builders' exchange of a city should be the clearing house of all work that rightly came within its scope; that a well organized exchange, such as exists in this city, should bear the same relation to non-members as the New York Stock Exchange bears to the curbstone broker.

"No contracts," he said, "should be awarded to any but members of the exchange, and the benefits will show for themselves. I have faith in this organization second not to that of my belief in the principles of our government."

Against Curbstone Contractors. I. H. Scates, secretary of the Interstate Association and secretary of the Builders' Exchange of Baltimore, also spoke against the curbstone contractors. He believed in making the changes so influential that no reputable builder could afford not to be a member.

"It is in the power of the builders of this country and the members of the Richmond Exchange to place a premium on the seats in the organization," he said.

Mr. Scates said that the open shop plan was the only one under which American labor could work to the best advantage, and cited examples as to why this plan is the best. "The open shop is an American proposition; the closed shop is un-American in every respect," he said.

President F. S. Chavannes, of the Baltimore Builders' Exchange, made a

Free Remedy Helps Children

Many a mother has learned of a way of avoiding sickness in her family, especially among the children, by the use of a free sample bottle of the famous laxative Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This offer of the doctor's to send a free sample bottle has been responded to by thousands of women in all parts of America.

This Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a truly wonderful laxative and especially adapted to the needs of babies and children, because it is pleasant to taste and no child will refuse it. Then, it is mild and never gripes. It is all that a child's remedy should be, though it is a good laxative for the whole family, because it is effective at all ages. It is simply not dynamic like salts, pills and powerful cathartics, which should not be given to children, anyway.

Nine times out of ten when a child complains and you don't know exactly what the matter with it, it needs a laxative—its bowels are constipated. Syrup Pepsin will correct the trouble, tone up the child and soon it will be well again. Overnight wonderful results have been secured with Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents or a dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size, but you are invited to make a test of it first at the doctor's expense. Send him your address to-day and he will send you a free sample bottle direct to your home. Then, when satisfied, buy it of your favorite druggist.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years, and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample, address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.
